ARTILLERY THUNDER KEEPS RAIDERS FROM METROPOLIS CENTRE

Heavy Guns Save London From Serious Bombing—Nazi Planes Show Hearty Respect for Terrible Anti-Aircraft Fire—Casualties Caused Among Shoppers in Northwest Town

LONDON, Oct. 2 (CP).—Heavy guns put up a thunderous barrage early today against German planes attacking the London area during the twenty-fifth consecutive night of siege, and for the second night in succession the central districts escaped serious bombing.

By 4.30 a.m. (7.30 p.m. P.S.T. Tuesday), damage was reported only in one Central London street. Eight towns in Southeast England were attacked and bombs fell in other parts of Britain.

For the second time since intensified bombing began September 7, the continuous night raid was broken by an anti-aircraft signal before midnight. The transport services had scarcely resumed, however, before the raiders returned and the sirens sounded London's sixth warning since midday Tuesday.

Inner sections of London had long lulls when even the anti-aircraft was silent as the planes showed hearty respect for the defenses. When an occasional Nazi raider appeared to cross the area he was greeted with terrific fire. The raiders never remained there long.

Planes were reported in Southwest, Northwest and Northeast England, a Welsh coastal town and in Southwest England. Casualties were caused in a northwest coastal town when bombs fell in a shopping thoroughfare.

One of twelve incendiary bombs dropped in a northeastern suburb of London fell near the entrance to a public shelter. A man rushed from the shelter, picked up the bomb, which was then well alight, and hurled it into the middle of the street.

ADMIRAL EVANS HAS NEW POST

Charged With Providing Warm, Adequate Shelter For London's People

LONDON, Oct. 1 (CP).—With winter approaching and Nazi air raids continuing, the Government today enlisted the directive genius of Admiral Sir Edward Ramage, Garth Russell Evans—Evans of the "Broke"—to solve the problem of providing warm and adequate shelter for all of London's people.

Britons who know him say that they confidently expect him to lead through the red tape with the same expedition that made him the hero of the Dover patrol of 1917. For like his old friend Winston Churchill, "Evans of the Broke" has a reputation for getting things done—and done well.

DARING EXPLOIT

All Britons know of him and even schoolboys know of the Dover patrol exploit when he commanded the Broke and with that vessel, accompanied by another destroyer, the Swift, reverted to the primitive naval warfare mode of fighting called "boarding" and attacked six German destroyers. They sank two rammed one broadside and badly damaged the others.

He made three expeditions to Antarctica in one case taking charge of an expedition after the death of Captain Scott.

After the last war he was promoted to rear admiral and commanded the Royal Australian Navy. Later he was commander-in-chief of the African station, and of the Home Fleet.

Lately he has been one of London's two regional commissioners for civil defense.

RUSSIA NOT SATISFIED WITH RUMANIAN REPLY

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Oct. 1 (AP).—Reports circulated in diplomatic circles tonight that Soviet Russia is not satisfied with Rumania's reply to a protest over frontier incidents and has again demanded "full satisfaction."

These reports, which were without confirmation, added that Russia insists that Germany's guarantee of Rumania's new frontiers does not apply to the Rumanian-Russian border.

Camp Borden Troops Conclude First Stage of Military Manoeuvres

Five Thousand Cover More Than 100 Miles in Mechanized Columns by Three Routes—Will Converge on Hamilton Some Time Today

TORONTO, Oct. 1 (CP).—The first stage of a vast movement of troops from Camp Borden to "defend a seacoast front" along the shores of Lakes Ontario and Erie ended tonight when 5,000 soldiers were bivouacked at Paris, Kitchener, Preston and Brantford.

Military authorities were generally satisfied with the day's performance and emphasized the movement was not so much tactical, as designed to give roadcraft instruction in a mass movement of troops. For that reason, the manoeuvres were not as spectacular as war games.

Moving in three mechanized columns, the troops covered upwards of one hundred miles. The huge military lorries in which the men were being transported travelled at an average speed of twenty to twenty-five miles an hour.

The troops themselves were not without exercise and both before and after the march.

Bomb Destingers Presented With George Crosses

Lieut. Robert Davies and Sapper George Wylie Awarded New Decoration for Saving St. Paul's Cathedral—Two Others in Same Squad Receive O.B.E.—Other Awards Made

LONDON, Oct. 1 (CP).—An heroic episode in the Battle of Britain was marked today by presentation of the George Cross to temporary Lieut. Robert Davies, formerly of St. Catharines, Ont., leader of the section of Royal Engineers which removed a giant Nazi time bomb from the precincts of St. Paul's.

The award, instituted by the King as a mark of extreme gallantry, ranks next to the Victoria Cross.

The G.C. also was awarded to Sapper George Cameron Wylie, of the Royal Engineers, for his role in the task of disposing of the 1,200-pound bomb which was embedded close to the cathedral and threatened it with destruction.

REGARDLESS OF RISK
The London Gazette, publishing the announcement of the awards, said of Lieut. Davies: "So conspicuous was this officer of imminent danger to the cathedral that, regardless of personal risk, he spared neither himself nor his men in his efforts to 'breathe the bomb'."

All ranks knew that an explosion might occur at any moment, but the engineers discovered and extricated the huge missile from its resting place. At that point, Lieut. Davies showed his courage. In order to spare his men further danger, he drove the vehicle in which the bomb was stowed.

Inspector Paul O. Whitman, of the Detroit police homicide squad, said Sapper Wylie, a former price-fighter, drew a pistol in the midst of the argument and began firing. The shooting, Whitman said, climaxed an argument over disposition of a sports park in which Sage and the others were partners.

The dead man was Ralph Nadell, forty-eight, of suburban Birmingham. A brother of the slain man, Al Nadell, forty-eight, was shot in the chest. A third bullet struck Attorney Morris Smiley, fifty-six, in the right shoulder.

A search of the County Building failed to disclose Judge Sage's whereabouts. Judge Sage, Smiley said, pulled a pistol from his desk, saying, "This will pacify everybody," and began firing.

RUNNER IN HOSPITAL

LONDON, Oct. 1 (CP).—Jack Lovelock, New Zealand distance runner, is in the hospital recovering from a broken collarbone received in a fall from a horse while hunting, it was disclosed today.

Talking to reporters at his press conference, Mr. Roosevelt said he imagined the laws of most states classified such deeds as assaults and crimes.

A reporter had asked the President whether he had read in newspapers that a "Presidential candidate" had been subjected to harsh treatment in Michigan.

SHOULD LOSE JOB
The President said he had heard of the incidents through a secretary who had told him a Reconstruction Finance Corporation employee was involved in the "wastebasket" affair. He added she should forfeit her position.

Detroit dispatches said police had arrested Doris Larse, thirty-one, who, they said, admitted dropping the basket from an eighteenth-floor hotel window shortly after Willie had entered the building yesterday.

Miss Larse was identified as a R.F.C. worker Betty Wilson, a nineteen-year-old girl, who was in the crowd near Willie, was struck on the head and seriously injured.

In Pontiac, an egg thrown from the crowd splattered Mrs. Willie as she and her husband drove away from a platform.

From Europe Day by Day

THE TIMES, London
News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1940, by Southern Co.)
LONDON, Oct. 1 (By Cable).—The pact between Germany, Italy and Japan, says The Times today, is a slap in the face to the United States and should have the effect of dispelling illusions across the Atlantic as to the desirability of enabling Britain to purchase in America all the needs for the prosecution of the war.

President Roosevelt will be neither intimidated nor provoked, and he has no intention of playing Berlin's game. It would certainly be prudent now, adds the newspaper, to maintain contact with the Soviet Government, which can not be indifferent to this new link between partners of the Anti-Comintern Pact.

Stalin is too shrewd, says The Times diplomatic correspondent, not to see the pact is ultimately directed as much against the Soviet Union as against the United States, and Russia lacks the consolation of a few thousand miles of ocean between her and the aggressors' designs.

"What is he to do?" asks the newspaper. "Reveal while there is time to come to terms? Doubtless the Nazis are already offering tempting bribes to the Russians in the hope of keeping their acquiescence or of getting more economic support from them."

But it is questionable whether the Germans can offer enough, and Moscow may view seriously the prospective of future defensive war both East and West.

On the subject of Spain, The Times says: "The Italians now admit Spain is not yet ready to throw in her lot with the Axis. France's problem, as Rome sees it, is to delay entry into the war until Britain is as close to defeat as France was, when Mussolini delivered his stab in the back."

"The French High Commissioner in Syria is holding out against Italian Armistice Commission demands designed to reduce the French forces there to impotence. Mussolini, therefore, has recalled five of his generals from the commission and sent nonmilitary delegates, apparently with orders to sabotage the French army from within and play for time to allow the Axis plan for the Mediterranean campaign to develop."

PLANS ON GIBRALTAR
Foreign observers said they believed Serrano Suñer and Mussolini would put the final touches to an understanding defining Spain's part in an Italian-German attempt to capture Gibraltar, but Fascists disputed the possibility for a formal alliance at the present time.

It Popolo di Roma declared Spain already is "in the political system" of the Axis powers and added: "Spain's position as it will remain for the present, that of being vigilant and watchful over all that happens in the European world, ready at the opportune moment to use her rights and achieve even with arms her aspirations."

U.S. OIL MAN Released by Rumanians
BUCHAREST, Oct. 1 (AP).—Reports that Hungary may be asked to enter a military alliance with the Axis brought the comment in official quarters today: "It is not yet entirely clear what the Axis powers desire in this respect."

Hungary is so close to the Axis, these quarters said, "that any invitation to join the military pact would undoubtedly be respected."

TOKIO, Oct. 2 (AP).—A joint commission to resolve American-Japanese relations is "impracticable" unless the United States is ready to drop its "fixed ideas" about the new order in Asia, Yachihiro Suma, Foreign Office spokesman, said today.

The unofficial suggestion originating in the United States was that representatives of both countries be commissioned to adjust points of friction, but Suma said that was useless unless "legalistic ideas prevalent prior to the war" were discarded.

"It seems to me," he said at a press conference, "that revolutionary changes have taken place throughout the world, particularly since the war in Europe."

COME AND LISTEN
"It might be valuable if Americans came here and listened to our views of these changes, but impracticable unless they are taken into consideration. Legalistic ideas prevalent prior to the war necessarily would have to be discarded."

Before such a plan could achieve any results, a fundamental basis between the Governments of Japan and the United States would need to be arranged.

"The administration's fixed ideas regarding the Orient would need alteration."

Eclipse of Sun Causes Deep Alarm
CALCUTTA, Cape of Good Hope, Oct. 1 (CP-Reuters).—Natives took to the hills, cooed and birds twittered nervously today in the eerie twilight of a four-minute total eclipse of the sun.

Although the natives were forewarned, they vacated towns in a twenty-mile belt across the Northwest Cape to the Kaffrarian coast as the shadow of the moon raced across the veldt at seventy miles a minute.

Cloudless skies provided perfect conditions for astronomers gathered here to observe the phenomenon.

BRITISH BOMB GERMANS HEAVILY FROM CHANNEL PORTS TO BERLIN

R.A.F. Smashes at Nazi Capital for More Than Two Hours—Big Guns on French Coastline Severely Bombed With Assault Centring On Boulogne and Cap Gris Nez

Tons of Explosives Dropped; Great Fires Left by Planes

LONDON, Oct. 2 (CP).—Royal Air Force bombers renewed their raids on Berlin early today, keeping that city under air alarm for two hours and fifteen minutes, while others struck at the big Berthas that line a section of the German-held French coastline.

In both cases the British bombers had to fly through murky weather over the English Channel that contrasted with the clear skies over London.

The attack on the invasion ports and Nazi gun emplacements took place in rain clouds hanging low over the Channel.

Both sides of the Dover Strait trembled under the shock of exploding bombs. The centre of the British attack was in the region of the harbor of Boulogne and of the Nazi big gun emplacements near Cap Gris Nez.

BRILLIANT ILLUMINATIONS
German searchlights threw up lanes of creeping white, and German anti-aircraft batteries filled the upper air with shrapnel and multi-colored shell bursts. Tracer shells and parachute flares threw out their brief illuminations.

Radio stations in Hamburg, Bremen and other German stations fell silent, without explanation, before the usual hour of sign-off, and it thus appeared that British raiders were over many areas of the Reich.

All this was but a resumption of assaults last night and early today upon the vital forces of the German war foundry and the long string of Nazi-held French ports—targets, said the Air Ministry, of tons of British bombs.

The Air Ministry said they struck from the far interior of Germany in a long sweep back to the coast; and they left red, irregular blotches of flame from Berlin to Calais.

BERLIN'S UTILITIES HIT
Berlin's people were under cover for more than five hours—the longest period yet—and heavy British bombers cruised up and down over the Reich's capital for three and one-half hours, dropping tubes of explosives on the city's vital utilities.

The attack on Berlin, loosed during the night and carried on into this morning, was reported particularly heavy on the west and Klingenberg power stations, and it symbolized perhaps more important assaults upon vital areas not only elsewhere in Germany but in Holland, Belgium and France as well.

This was the report of the destruction wrought, area by area, as reported by the Air Ministry.

In Germany—Oil refineries at Hanover and Leuna near Leipzig having bombed and great flames left leaping upward; at Rottenburg, an airplane factory hit, at Magdeburg, a munitions plant, freight yards and railway communications bombed at Bremen, Elbing, Osnabruck and Mannheim, the docks hit at Cuxhaven.

BLASTS AT AIRDROME
In Holland—Docks at Amsterdam pounded hard; gasoline dumps attacked at Rotterdam and Vlaardingen, eight explosions reported at an airdrome in Limburg of here.

In Belgium—The port of Ostend assaulted, shipping and supplies bombed; railway centres and freight yards smashed at Brussels.

In France—The ports of Dunkerque, Calais, Boulogne, Le Havre and Lorient, already black with the wreckage of many a previous assault, hit yet again.

In the official reports of all these attacks the familiar words "great fires, heavy explosions" occurred again and again.

TEN HOURS ON STRETCHER TRIP

Seven-Mile Trail Has to Be Cut For Rescue of Injured Man In Woods

FORKS, Wash. Oct. 1 (AP).—A forest crew which broke a trail for seven miles through dense woods and underbrush brought a timber cruiser injured helper into Forks today after a ten-hour stretcher trip.

The injured man was Jim Magee, nineteen, of Forks. He crashed his foot with an axe yesterday in the deep-forest fifteen miles west of this Western Olympic Peninsula community. He was weak from loss of blood upon arrival here but attendants expressed the belief he would be able to pull through without a transfusion.

Issues New Orders Governing Leave in Active Service Force

Twelve Months Must Elnapse Between Each Period Of Extended Leave—Provision Is Made For Special Cases

OTTAWA, Oct. 1 (C)—The Department of National Defence tonight issued revised orders governing the granting of leave in the Canadian Active Service Force. The department said in a statement that officers and other ranks may be granted leave up to fourteen days, after six months' continuous service in the C.A.S.F. An additional fourteen days leave may be granted after each additional twelve months' continuous service in the C.A.S.F. on authority of the district officer commanding. Such compassionate leave is restricted to cases where the district officer commanding is satisfied there is urgent need for the grant.

EMBARCATION LEAVE
Officers and men about to go overseas may be granted embarkation leave to provide two clear days at home. The fact an officer or soldier has had ordinary leave will in no way prejudice the grant of embarkation leave or furlough.

The statement said that harvest leave may be granted to certain personnel of the C.A.S.F. under instruction from National Defence headquarters.

TROOPS OCCUPY NANAIMO CAMP

B.C. Regiment Arrives at Coal City—Others Expected in Near Future

NANAIMO, Oct. 1 (C)—The British Columbia Regiment of the Duke of Connaught's Own Rifles arrived in Nanaimo on board the Ss. Princess Joan from New Westminster this afternoon. Amidst cheers and hand-clapping of hundreds of citizens who had gathered at the pier head, they marched to the military camp at Wakesiah Farm, one mile west of the city, where they will be quartered for the present in the tents and buildings recently vacated by the non-permanent force, which had been in training there for one month. Another regiment is expected to arrive shortly, bringing the permanent force here to 2,000 men, who will be accommodated in the tents until huts are ready, work on which is under way. When all of the buildings for the permanent camp are completed, it is understood at least 4,000 men will be in camp near Nanaimo.

The D.C.O.'s were met at the boat by an advance party of forty soldiers, who had come over previously to make the camp ready. The first shouted question of the arriving troops was, "What kind of a camp have you got?" "Fine," was the answer. The platoons formed up on the wharf and led by their bugle band, started their march to camp, which they reached just before dusk.

They have been in training near North Vancouver since the beginning of the war, and as they swung past the waiting crowds, comments on their smart appearance were heard on all sides. A small rear party to complete the full regiment is expected on Thursday or Friday next.

Lieut.-Colonel Carmichael is officer commanding.

The railway at Cul de Har, Italian East Africa, was attacked and a direct hit was registered at the entrance to a tunnel. Other bombs struck the concrete approach to the tunnel and railway line. Bombs were dropped on military quarters and the jetty at Berbera and some buildings were hit.

"Birkikau, in Italian Somaliland, was successfully raided for the third time by aircraft of the South African Air Force on September 28. Direct hits were scored on administrative buildings with heavy incendiary bombs. Some buildings were burned out. Other South African squadrons carried out reconnaissance and all aircraft returned safely."

BARRAGE KEEPS RAIDERS AWAY

road, out of danger. A sixteen-year-old boy and his brother threw sand and water on other incendiaries, extinguishing them before firemen arrived.

NO CASUALTIES

Bombs crashed in a North London suburb, but no casualties were reported. Fewer raiders came by the northwest route last night, most of them choosing the southeast and southwest in preference. The distant rumble of heavy firing was carried in on the wind, but the early part of the night London was quiet.

Early Tuesday scattered raiders caused London's air raid sirens to be sounded, as the Nazis resumed by daylight the series of raids broken off just before dawn.

They came at a high altitude. Anti-aircraft batteries in outlying sections of the capital pounded away and the sky was dotted with the puffs of bursting shells.

Four persons were killed and seven injured in a North London district when high-explosive bombs struck a residential area. Five persons were rescued from a wrecked bungalow.

ATTACK WELSH TOWN

At the same time other raiders were sighted elsewhere in England. Two Nazi planes attacked a Welsh town, dropping incendiary and high-explosive bombs. One raider was reported to have dived low through a cloud bank and strafed the area with machine guns.

Early Tuesday afternoon several bombs fell in a thickly-settled Southwest London district and there were believed to have been casualties. A raider which got through to Central London disappeared quickly to the southeast amid a burst of anti-aircraft shells followed by a patrol of R.A.F. fighters.

One German plane was reported to have strafed a train in a South-east London station. It was chased and shot down by a Hurricane fighter over Surrey. Three other raiders were reported to have been shot down in Dorsetshire when fighters attacked a flight of about fifteen which crossed the southwest coast.

The Air Ministry, summing up Tuesday's raids, said there were few reports of the dropping of bombs.

An interesting talk on "Soils, Fertilizers and Composts" was given last night by E. E. Peden to members of the Victoria Horticultural Society at the regular monthly meeting in the City Council Chamber.

The defendants were T. L. Carr, Patrick B. Carr and Peter D. Carr, all of Vancouver.

Increase in Amount For Elevator Lease Secured by Council

Gillespie Grain Company to Give City Half the Operating Profits With Minimum Guarantee of $16,000 Per Year

RENEWAL of a lease on the Ogden Point elevator under which the Gillespie Grain Company will guarantee the city 50 per cent of the operating profits for another twelve months will be signed forthwith, the City Council decided on recommendation of the lands committee at a meeting yesterday afternoon.

A minimum guarantee of $16,000 per year is contained in the lease, an increase of $1,000 over the amount promised for the previous twelve months' operation of the plant.

Mayor Andrew McGavin and Aldermen W. Lloyd Morgan, R. A. C. Dewar, John A. Worthington, S. H. O'Neil and Archie Willis spoke in favor of renewing the lease on terms proposed by the lands committee. Alderman B. J. Gadsden contended the city should hold out for 65 per cent of the operating profits.

Alderman Morgan retorted: "The elevator was idle for years, until Mayor McGavin and the lands committee interested the Gillespie Grain Company in taking it over. If Alderman Gadsden or any other alderman has a concrete proposal, I should like to hear it."

CLOSING OF SHOPS

In dealing with other general business, the council received and filed letters dealing with Shop Early Closing By-Law and decided to inform the writers that the police commission had tabled for two months a motion to amend the by-law.

Letter acknowledging a suggestion that a bridge to the Mainland be erected at Seymour Narrows were received from the Under-Secretary of State, Secretary to the Minister of National Defence and Secretary to the Prime Minister.

Resignation of C. W. Keeper was accepted from the boulevard department. Permission was granted to install a 1,000-gallon gasoline tank and pump at Douglas and Chatham Streets. Albert Yule and George Grice were made permanent members of the fire department.

CRUISER APPROVED

By a vote of 6 to 4 the council adopted a motion of Alderman Edward Williams to install the new garbage cruiser on the lower dock of the garbage wharf at a cost of $3,285.

On motion of the water board, it was decided to purchase 150 water meters from Gordon & Belyea, Limited. The board successfully moved that all liability be disclaimed in the case of Mrs. E. Wakeling, for damages for injuries sustained in a fall on a city street.

Authority was given D. A. MacDonald, city controller, to pay $10,000 to the Royal Jubilee Hospital towards the cost of the new wing, on receipt of a letter from hospital directors. At the suggestion of Alderman Willis, the city clerk was asked to prepare a letter offering citizens' congratulations to the officer in charge at Esquimalt and to Commander C. T. Beard, R.C.N. for the recent capture of a German freighter.

Alderman O'Neil gave a brief report on the Union of British Columbia Municipalities convention at Revelstoke.

It was decided to purchase cribbing logs from E. Pratt, Colwood, for $184.50, and to construct a concrete sidewalk on the north side of Green Street at a cost of $90 to the city.

A report of the engineer showed that the cost of water and sewer services to a proposed subdivision on the George Road, near Lotus Street, would be $14,100.

PAYS TRIBUTE

Alderman Williams congratulated Mayor McGavin, Mrs. McGavin, brother aldermen and their wives, the celebration committee and others who helped to make the day on Saturday a success.

HITLER AND HIS CHOICE

At a time like the present it would be no easy task to examine calmly and critically the career and personal qualities of the leading statesman of a country with which we are at war. Five years ago, however, Mr. Winston Churchill took a brief study of the grim figure who presides over the affairs of the Germany of today. He began by saying that it was not possible at the moment of writing to form a just judgment of Hitler. Such a judgment must be postponed until the man's life work as a whole could be reviewed. The title of Mr. Churchill's essay was "Hitler and His Choice," and its purpose was to point out that at that time it seemed possible to hope, in spite of the darker side of Hitler's work and creed, that he might go down to history as the man who brought Germany back to its place in "the European family circle."

Mr. Churchill traces the career of the Austrian corporal from the time that he set out to regain all that had been lost by Germany at the close of the Great War, when she lay prostrate at the feet of the Allies. He enumerates the chief episodes of the story, "the riotous meetings, the fustian at Munich, Hitler's imprisonment, his various arrests and trials, his conflict with Hindenburg, his electoral campaign, von Papen's tergiversation, Hitler's conquest of Hindenburg, Hindenburg's desertion of Brüning." These, remarks Mr. Churchill, were "the milestones upon that indomitable march which carried the Austrian-born corporal to the dictatorship of the entire German nation of nearly seventy million souls, constituting the most industrious, tractable, fierce and martial race in the world."

What followed Hitler's assumption of supreme power? The states and kingdoms of Germany were fused into one whole. The Nazis suppressed and obliterated all the other parties in the state. From 1933 onwards the whole available energies of Germany, "in the factories, in the barracks, on the aviation grounds, in the schools, the colleges, and almost in the nursery," were directed to preparations for war. The full terror of this revelation did not break upon the world until 1935, the year in which Mr. Churchill was writing. It was then that Hitler, "casting aside concealment, sprang forward armed to the teeth."

In the meantime Hitler had supplied the Germans with objects of hatred. The Jews were held up to obloquy. They were driven from every position of public and social life, they were declared a foul and odious race and made the victims of a ferocious persecution. This movement was broadened, and Christianity was attacked. Catholic priests and Protestant pastors falling under the ban of a new German religion which defied the ancient gods of Nordic paganism. Such is the Germany over which Hitler ruled in 1935—and still rules, a unified totalitarian Germany, its courts of justice governed not by jurists but by politicians, its religious a pagan mythology. Its political prisoners crowded into concentration camps, preparation for war sounding in the training grounds and aerodromes, fields and factories.

Much can happen in five years—and it may be that early in that period Hitler might still have chosen the better part of the great alternative that lay before him. It seems more probable, however, that even when Mr. Churchill was writing the die had already been cast, and Hitler and his associates were determined to pursue a career of crime and violence quite without parallel in recorded history.

A GREAT SCIENTIST

In the storm and whirl of war the death of great men passes almost unnoticed, and often without the tribute that is their due, except in their homelands. This was the case with Sir J. J. Thomson, O.M., F.R.S., Master of Trinity College, Cambridge and Professor of Physics in the University. He stood in the forefront of fame among modern scientists, not only because of his discovery of the electron, but, as well, for many wonderful advances in physical science. He was the recipient of almost all the honors that a scientist can attain, including the Nobel Prize for Physics, and he was President of the Royal Society from 1915 to 1920, during which time his scientific talent was devoted to the service of the Government for naval, military and other purposes. There are Victorians who will recall his visit here with a group of scientists on the occasion of the meeting of the British Association in Canada in 1909. This newspaper remembers well the time and patience he expended in explaining to a reporter what, to the lay mind, were abstruse researches in which he was engaged. What the man himself was like has been told by Dr. F. W. Aston, who at one time had been his research assistant. He says, in tribute to a memorable personality:

"Among great experimental physicists his lack of manipulative skill must have been well-nigh unique, yet the simplicity and beauty of the methods and analysis of measurement which he originated—crossed fields for the electron, shooting cathode rays through the discharge to measure its potential gradient, the parabola method of positive ray analysis, to mention but three—make them ideal for the actual operator. Working under him never lacked thrills. When results were coming out, well his boundless, indeed, childlike, enthusiasm was contagious and occasionally embarrassing. Negatives just developed had actually to be hidden away for fear he would handle them while they were still wet. Yet when hitches occurred and the exasperating vagaries of an apparatus had reduced the man who had designed, built and worked it to baffled despair, along would shuffle this remarkable being who, after cogitating in a characteristic attitude over his funny old desk in the corner, and jotting down a few figures and formulae in the tiny, tidy handwriting on the back of somebody's fellowship thesis or an old envelope, or even the laboratory cheque book, would produce a luminous suggestion, like a rabbit out of a hat, not only revealing the cause of the trouble but also the means of cure. This intuitive ability to comprehend the inner working of intricate apparatus without the trouble of handling it appeared to me then, and still appears to me now, as something verging on the miraculous, the hall-mark of the great genius. As a leader he was a pillar of flame to follow, but difficult enough to keep up with. His own industry was nothing short of terrific. The only relaxation he appeared to take was a strange solitary sort of golf played once a week. Whatever his shortcomings in performance, his knowledge of the science of this game was profound. Many will remember his charming lecture on the spin of a golf ball as vividly as I do my practice with the ping-pong balls and the rubber balloons which looped and zoomed about the Royal Institution on that memorable occasion. I also recollect well the late Sir Richard Threlfall, in a speech at one of the famous Cavendish dinners, saying that a very great privilege it was for us young men to be able to associate with one so head-and-shoulders above his fellow creatures in intellect as J. J. Looking back now after so many years I have the best of reasons for agreeing with him."

A BLOODLESS VICTORY

It is too early in the war to determine how the morale of the German Air Force is being sustained, but there are instances to show that in individual cases it is not anything like as high as that which maintains throughout the personnel of the R.A.F. One story told is that of a Hurricane pilot who, after using up his ammunition in shooting down two enemy fighters, saw a third Me. 109 dive past him. He says: "I followed him down to ground level and chased him southwards. He did not rise above 100 feet until well south of Maidstone, and then he throttled back. I overtook and flew alongside him, pointing downwards to the ground. He turned away, so I carried out a dummy quarter attack, breaking away very close to him. After this he landed his Me. 109 in a field at about 140 miles an hour. I saw the pilot get out apparently unhurt, and as I circled round him he put his hands above his head, so I waved to him and he waved back. Then I circled low over him and threw him a packet of 20 cigarettes which I had with me. I saw him pick them up and again he waved. Then I saw what I believed to be members of the Home Guard go in the field and take him prisoner. After that I returned to my base."

POSTPONE THE CENSUS

The Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, of Windsor, Ontario, have put forward the suggestion that next year's Census should be deferred in view of the preoccupation of the people in the war. Cogent arguments are put forward in favor of postponement. One is the expense that would be involved at a time when money is wanted for far more urgent purposes. Another argument is that a National Registration has just been taken. Through it the authorities have the information they require about adults, and to learn what is the approximate population of the country, if any particular good derives from this all that is necessary is to add the school population, which is known, to the registration figures. A Census next year, after Registration last August, would be a redundant effort. There is nothing to prevent its postponement until more settled times.

PERSEVERE

All I can say to the Poles is: 'Persevere! Keep your arms! Strike down your enemies wherever you can reach them! You have embarked in a career of honor, of patriotism, and of glory. You may fall in the field; but it is better to fall there than to die in the ranks of your enemies! Persevere! And depend upon it, having adopted this course—adopted, perhaps, by despair, but sanctioned by reason and justice—you will have the respect of all men, and I trust, that Providence will bless your efforts.'—Lord Ellenborough. Happy are all free people too strong to be dispossessed. But blessed are those among nations who dare to be strong for the rest. —E. B. Browning

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

The best book of all is man. What a library that would make, with one volume to each individual who has walked on this earth since the dawn of time! Contents would not hold such a library, if that were packed solid. Even the circulating portion, some 2,500,000,000 volumes representing people now living on this globe, is very poorly known and understood; and they comprise a mere three generations of human nature, carrying with them the accumulated wisdom and experience that has gone before. On the surface, one might think that there would be a sameness about those human volumes. This column dares to believe that there would not; that, while patterns and rhythms might recur, the spark of individuality would be found in each volume, justifying that portion of the great experiment in humanity, Shakespeare, who found a common denominator among men, went to endless pains to show that each bundle of human nature carries with it its own enigmas, and its own individuality. No one since his day has worked so hard at the library of human relations, and his works are still the best texts in the course. Shakespeare, unfortunately, was himself an individual. About two centuries ago, an intensely human document between such ordinary, undistinguished covers. It is in such times that the whole world suffers for the loss of one brave man, or of one honest one; by reason of the failure of all men to understand one another. About the Battle of Books, a terrific encounter in which ancient and modern works were used as veritable missiles to fling at the heads of unfortunate individuals who happened to be in the way. Dean curiously failed to bring his extraordinary tale to any sharp focus at its conclusion. He must have considered that no one was left standing in that particular library, and have left the place, dusting off his spectacles and the dust of the centuries, remains of his demolished enemies. Today, a much more serious Battle of Books is in progress. A section of mankind is carrying war against the whole world. We, for our part, must reply, or go under. The destroyer of human books must be turned out of humanity's library, so that man once more becomes free, to learn and to grow.

Meanwhile, perhaps, it is idle to insist upon the dignity, importance, and never-ending interest of the individual human work; on the forehead that all previous time has written as an introduction to each precious volume; on the illumination of the title page, the suggestion of the title page, and the all too frequently incomplete last chapter. Human books, it is sometimes forgotten, run in many editions; some volumes bearing a clear resemblance to their grandfathers, and having precisely the same arrangement for the chapters. But there is always a difference, too. Time, itself, has added more to the forehead—and with Time there is never a last word. Some day in the not too distant future, the dust of battle may settle once more to the ground, and all men may be free to read in the vast library of humanity those little-thumbed chapters of human relations, for lack of the knowledge of which this human world has persistently denied itself the merest comfort or conquest and expansion. This column, which likes the Library of Man and has not yet found a single dull volume in it, would consider that the first part of that which was promised to the very first man; to Adam, who emerged from the great Bunderly with no written forehead at all.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of October 2, 1890)

Fire at Seattle—A fire broke out on the waterfront at Seattle on Monday night, destroying the wharves of H. H. Smith and Captain J. A. Hatfield. A large amount of hay and oil was stored in warehouses and made a fierce blaze.

The steamers Clara Brown and Munroe had a narrow escape, but were hauled away from the slip by hawsers and suffered but little damage. The loss is estimated at $25,000, with $10,000 being covered by insurance.

Meeting at Portland—The Y.M.C.A. delegates who have been attending the convention just closed at Portland, B.C. for the month of October, will meet at the meeting of the executive board will be held here during April. Victoria contributed $250 to the fund of the executive of the Pacific Coast Association, and the delegates from this city took a prominent part in the meetings of the session.

Marine Notes—The Government steamers Princess and Sir James Douglas are both away from port. The latter left yesterday for a fortnight to the east coast, the Princess carried to Bonilla Point a number of workmen who are to undertake the repair of the signal service wire from there to Cape Beale. Steamer City of Kingston came into port yesterday with a goodly sized passenger list and carrying ten carloads of freight.

WILL INSTRUCT IN NAVIGATION

By THE EDITORIAL STAFF

Captain F. Baylis Added to Instruction Staff for Evening Classes

Captain F. Baylis, Rowan MacKenzie and Ernest Eve have been appointed to complete the list of instructors needed for the forthcoming session of the Victoria evening classes.

Captain Baylis will conduct a class in navigation to be held on Thursday evenings. This class is not listed in the syllabus as some difficulty was found in obtaining a qualified instructor. The school is fortunate in obtaining Captain Baylis' services, for he is an old-time mariner and has taught classes for a number of years in Hongkong.

Ernest Eve will be in charge of the class in aviation, while Rowan MacKenzie will conduct the continuing class. Both are well qualified in their respective subjects.

CRAFT WORK CLASSES

John Kyle is scheduled to instruct two of the evening classes at the Victoria High School. On Thursday evenings he will give a series of talks on art appreciation, illustrated with lantern slides. On Monday he will conduct a class in practical design. The second course is primarily intended to help the students of the craft classes, Art metalwork, pottery and woodwork are three which have always been popular and are again on the syllabus. But the interested in leather work, bakery, clay modelling, etc., will also find Mr. Kyle's course of value.

Opportunity will be given to all students to work out their designs in any of the materials. If there are a sufficient number of students for any one of the crafts, a class for this subject will be conducted in addition to the design class.

Those interested are asked to meet Mr. Kyle tomorrow evening or Monday evening at 7:30 at the Victoria High School.

DOMINION HELP NOT AVAILABLE

Province Must Bear Cost Of Any Improvement to Highway at Colwood

With no financial assistance forthcoming from the Federal Government, any improvements that might be made to the Island Highway in the vicinity of Colwood would have to be financed by the Province alone, Duncan MacBride, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, informed a meeting of directors of the chamber yesterday.

Mr. MacBride, chairman of a committee appointed to impress upon the Provincial Government the need for realignment and widening of the highway between Craigflower Bridge and Colwood, particularly in view of the heavy use to which the highway was put for military purposes, stated that a deputation had interviewed Hon. C. S. Leary, Provincial Minister of Public Works, and had emphasized that the narrowness of the highway and the many dangerous bends had led to several accidents.

Mr. Leary had informed the delegation that the Province had no money available for any improvement work and had taken the matter up with the Dominion authorities to see whether a Dominion-Provincial scheme could be devised, in view of the fact that the opening of the military camp at Colwood had greatly increased the traffic on the highway. Since then, however, said Mr. MacBride, the minister had received a reply from Ottawa stating that the matter was the responsibility of the Province.

The directors resolved to keep the matter before Mr. Leary, with a view to having provision for improvements to the highway included in the new estimates of the Provincial Government.

Duncan MacBride, president of the chamber, spoke of Mr. French's death as a great loss to the chamber and to all those privileged to be associated with him. "He was a true pioneer and a patriot of Canada," Mr. MacBride said, referring to Mr. French's unassuming character, experienced judgment, true pioneer qualities, and unselfish service to his fellowmen.

J. H. Beatty was appointed to fill the vacancy on the board of directors caused by the death of Mr. French.

AGAINST SENDING GOODS TO JAPAN

Local Native Sons of Canada Want Concessions Held by Japanese Interests Cancelled

At the last meeting of Victoria Association of Native Sons of Canada, the members resolved to request the Canadian Government to prohibit the export of all Canadian products to Japan. The native sons believe that as Japan has allied herself with Germany and Italy, she can no longer be considered as friendly to Great Britain and the British Commonwealth, and Canada should, for once, take the lead and break off all trade relations with her.

It was the opinion of the assembly members that the continued shipment of scrap-iron and produce of British Columbia mines to Japan, was equivalent to placing munitions of war in the hands of our enemies for use against our own troops.

The Native Sons also resolved to recommend to the governments of Canada and British Columbia that all timber limits and berths, mining claims and other concessions held by Japanese interests be cancelled.

Several members present expressed themselves as having no sympathy with the continued "dilly-dallying" policy in dealing with the Japanese Empire, and were of the belief that the members of the Canadian Government knew very little about Oriental psychology.

Introduced to the meeting by G. Walton, Mr. Pike described how the moral and spiritual values of the world are facing a crisis, and how Hitler is endeavoring to substitute his own form of religion for Christianity, with the resultant chaos.

Man Convicted of Theft in Nanaimo

NANAIMO, Oct. 1. — Pleading guilty to shoplifting a box of shells in a downtown store, a five-acre resident was fined $25 in city police court today. The merchant meanwhile had missed the shells and recalled the man's presence in the store a few hours previously that day. A check-up with police showed the stolen shells had not been registered.

Accused of theft after making the excuse that the shells belonged to his brother, he admitted his guilt. When the convicted man discovered that he could not raise enough money to meet the fine, he approached the merchant from whom he had stolen the shells for a loan, which was refused.

C. OF E. PRIESTS MADE WELCOME

Cathedral "At Home" Is Occasion for Greeting New Arrivals Here

The annual harvest "at home" to the parishioners and friends of Christ Church Cathedral, held last night in the gymnasium of the Memorial Hall, was made the occasion for extending a welcome to Rev. J. R. Fife, assistant priest at the Cathedral—Rev. George Biddle, rector of St. John's—and Rev. Dr. W. C. Western, rector of St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church, as well as to Mrs. Biddle and Mrs. Western.

The proceedings were opened by Dean S. H. Elliott, who emphasized that in these times of testing, the fellowship within the Church was being made more evident, and that by common trials and common sorrows people were being drawn more closely together.

In contrast with the last harvest "at home," when Rev. A. E. Hendy was given a farewell, this year's gathering marked the arrival of his successor, and more recently, the rector of two neighboring parishes, to all of whom the Cathedral gave a warm welcome, he declared.

APPLAUDS OPPORTUNITY Bishop H. E. Sexton applauded the opportunity which had been taken to make the new priests feel at home in Victoria and in the diocese, and expressed his desire to staff the parishes adequately.

Mr. Fife spoke in happy vein of his new association, as did Mr. Biddle in characteristic style, stressing the unity of the Church and of the challenge to go forward, while Dr. Western interspersed his thanks with a few anecdotes submitted to drive home his plea for optimism.

A short entertainment followed, to which Miss Nora Garcia and the Dean contributed, after which refreshments were served, an enjoyable evening concluding with the singing of the National Anthem.

Jam-Making Will Be Continued at St. Mary's Hall

The Local Council of Women yesterday concluded its jam-making activities at the Lake Hill Community Centre, removed all the cooking paraphernalia into the city, and from now on will continue any such work at St. Mary's Hall kitchen, Yale Street, Oak Bay. The first cooking bee there will take place on Thursday.

Yesterday's bee at Lake Hill concluded with the removal to cold storage of 800 additional pounds of dried apple butter and other jam, bringing the total placed in cold storage to date to approximately 3,000 pounds. The consignment included blackberry, plum and apple, damson and red plum, apple butter, and bottled berries, which will be available to the Red Cross Society whenever required for use of refugee or soldier families.

Mrs. A. E. Hopkins was in charge of the jam-making yesterday, other workers being Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sanders, Mrs. W. L. Liewellyn, Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin and Mrs. F. R. Jewkes.

"Train?" Dick said. "Plane, my boy."

Then Edwina and Norman came down from the ladders and the three met in the centre of the room.

"Our hands are dirty," Edwina said holding out her small hands. "Look! But I can't expect Sam and Mary to do a weekly dusting job on a library of this size."

"I'm assistant librarian, Dick. My hands are dirtier than his."

"I think you've both lost your minds or it's this outlet for boredom."

"Did Corneilia come with you?" Edwina asked.

"No, I came in too much of a hurry."

"You'll stay for lunch, won't you? I'll tell Mary to serve it on the terrace. They're my only two servants this Summer. Meantime Norman and I will get cleaned up a bit. Then we'll explain about our housecleaning."

She found Dick alone on the terrace and she thought, walking toward him, her face clean, her mouth bright, her white silk frock tailored and expensive, that of all the people she knew in New York she would probably see only Norman and Dick when she was a working girl there.

He grinned. "A little soap and water and lipstick and a clean dress, and you're the Edwina I know. Before Norman comes tell me—or was I a romantic mood the night you and he were together in New York."

"Corneilia's charming presence accounts for your romantic mood. No, Dick, Norman and I have discovered that a man and a girl can be together constantly and become only very good friends. How is Corneilia?"

"I'll save the explanation of our tearing up the library until Norman comes. He deserves to hear your remarks."

"Corneilia is splendid. She has a choice to make—the stage or me. I'm not hurrying her."

"Are you staying long? I ask that because Norman is going back tonight and I thought perhaps you could go back together. Don't try to persuade him to stay. He's had enough of our fair city."

"You sound mysterious."

"So do you. What brought you flying down, or shouldn't I ask?"

He said seriously as Norman appeared. "That will come later, too, Edwina."

Canadian Women Ready To Assist in War Work

WINNIPEG, Oct. 1 (CP).—Mrs. Bernice O'Brien, Winnipeg, who has been accepted for work with the Women's Auxiliary Territorial Service in England, said today she had been refused permission by the Dominion Government to travel to Great Britain to take up the work.

In an interview with The Canadian Press, Mrs. O'Brien said she had been told the Government was unable to grant exemption to her from the order in council passed on June 4 prohibiting women other than those employed in the armed forces of Canada, and children under twelve, from traveling in European war zones.

WANTS TO DO HER BIT
Mrs. O'Brien, whose husband is overseas with the Canadian Active Service Force, expressed keen disappointment at being prevented from "doing her bit."

She said that since the story of her hopes of going to England had been made public, she had received dozens of letters from girls all over the Dominion asking her how they might join the Territorial Service.

"Most of them have taken part in other war work," she said, "and many have taken courses in mechanics and truck driving."

Mrs. O'Brien had offered to pay her own passage to England after British authorities informed her a short time ago her application had been accepted.

LOCAL WOMEN TRAINED

Mrs. Bernice O'Brien, Winnipeg, who has been refused permission to go to Great Britain to engage in war duties, is only one of hundreds, according to Mrs. Norian Kennedy, controller of the Women's Service Corps of British Columbia.

"Hundreds of the 1,500 members of our organization are ready to leave for the Old Land to help in first aid, army clerical work, air raid precaution work, transport drivers, and all branches of the commissariat," Mrs. Kennedy said.

"About a month ago twenty of our members were ready to leave immediately when they received a cable from Dame Helen Gwynne-Vaughan, director-in-chief of the Women's Auxiliary Territorial Service of Great Britain, that recruits were needed." The cable stated that enlistment was being depended upon their arrival in London.

"We took up the matter with the Department of National Defence at Ottawa and were advised that no women would be permitted to leave Canada for the war zone other than those employed in the armed forces of Canada. When those restrictions are removed, our members are ready to volunteer their services for overseas work."

The battle is stern, the hour is critical, but the citizens of freedom will hold out, fortified by the love and valor of the race and the gifts of the Empire are the gauge of victory." The fund remains open for further contributions.

TRY A LIQUID SEASONING

For Your Next MEAT LOAF

WHEN making your next meat loaf we suggest that you try this new recipe given to us by a mother noted for her cooking. She used minced beef, bread crumbs, a little grated onion, some salt and pepper and a teaspoonful of H. P. Sauce. "In my opinion," says this lady, "it is the H. P. Sauce which gives this meat loaf such unusually delicious flavour." That's why H. P. Sauce may be called a liquid seasoning for meat loaves, meat pies, soups, stews, gravies, macaroni and many other dishes.

This thick, fruity sauce has great flavouring strength. Only a little is required in cooking or when served with meat, fish, fowl, salads, sandwiches and so on. H. P. is the Empire's Appetizer from Old England.

Shower for Bride-to-Be

A color scheme of pink and white was effectively carried out in the decoration at the surprise miscellaneous shower for Miss Evelyn Crabbe, a bride-to-be of the month, given last evening by Mrs. Archdale Medd, Mrs. J. Howie and Mrs. F. Norton at the home of Mrs. N. Crabbe, 2130 Ridge Road. The supper table, covered with a lace cloth, had as the centerpiece the bride's cake, flanked by silver vases of pink and white carnations and lighted by tall tapers in the prevailing colors. After the arrival of all the guests, the bride-to-be and her mother, Mrs. N. Crabbe, were presented with corsage bouquets of carnations. Little five-year-old Peggy Medd, dressed in a long blue frock and doll hat, presented a huge "petty officer's cap" filled with the many gifts to Miss Crabbe. Games and guessing contests were enjoyed and many prizes were awarded. The guests were Mesdames N. Crabbe, W. Martin, A. J. Sharpe, C. Price, E. Stewardson, D. Andrist, C. Crabbe, J. Howie, E. Pupil of Samuel

Will Open Season For Musical Arts

Randolph Hokanson, American pianist, who will be presented by the Victoria Musical Art Society on Wednesday, October 2, at the Empress Hotel, has begun his concert career in his own country after several years of study in England under such renowned teachers as Myra Hess, Tobias Matthay and the late Harold Samuel.

Hokanson was born in Bellingham, Wash., of Swedish descent. He began to study the piano at nine years of age, when he was twelve his parents took him to England, where he became the pupil of Paul Pierre McNeely.

Public recitals for the young artist began at an early age. He appeared many times in Seattle, clinaxing his recitals there by a formal debut. San Francisco and other west coast cities heard him, and he played on many college concert courses and over the radio.

A meeting with Harold Samuel, great English pianist and Bach specialist, resulted in Hokanson's going abroad to study with Samuel. After Samuel's death, he worked with Myra Hess and Tobias Matthay and in composition with Howard Ferguson.

Returning to his own country shortly before the war, Hokanson made his residence in New York. He auditioned for an N.B.C. broadcast, and was chosen from among thousands of applicants. His radio recital marked the beginning of national recognition for this American artist, who since that time has been heard extensively in many sections of his own country.

Hokanson is now under contract with the C.B.C. and it is interesting to know that he is making his debut here in Victoria under that corporation.

Marriage in Montreal - Is Of Interest

A wedding of interest to Victoria friends of the bride took place in St. Matthias' Church, Westmount, Montreal, on September 23 at 10:30 a.m., when Miss Margaret Frank, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Frank, Uplands, Victoria, became the bride of Mr. Charles Pomeroy, son of Capt. and Mrs. C. C. Petersen, South Shields, County Durham, England. Rev. Canon Gilbert Oliver officiated.

Given in marriage by Mr. E. N. Mercer, the bride looked lovely in an ensemble of pale grey light wool crepe, with a matching turban and veil, and a corsage bouquet of pink roses. Mr. Waters was best man for the bridegroom.

Following a small reception held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Mercer, Aberdeen Avenue, Westmount, the bridal couple left for the Laurentians to spend their honeymoon.

The bridegroom is on duty with His Majesty's merchant navy, and the bride returned to her post as junior instructor in the physiotherapy department at the University of Toronto and is living at 169 St. George Street, Toronto. She expects to be in Toronto for the duration of the war.

The bride wore a gown of royal blue chiffon velvet with matching accessories, and a corsage bouquet of roses and carnations, and was attended by her sister, Miss Olive Pengelly, in rosewood chiffon velvet with accessories in suite, and a corsage bouquet of pink carnations and swansons. Mr. Wilfred Edwards supported his brother, and Mr. William Finlay was usher.

During a reception in the Odd Fellows' Hall, the couple stood beneath a floral arch, when about sixty guests were welcomed by the parents of the bride and groom. Asters in pastel shades adorned the supper table, which was centred with the wedding cake. For a honeymoon trip to Port Alberni, the bride donned a smart brown outfit.

On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Edwards will take up residence at 2345 Howard Street.

HALIFAX, Oct. 1 (CP).—Flying Officer Otto Peterson, R.C.A.F., a native of Lloydminster, Sask., has been killed in English skies, according to a cable received here by his wife, the former Helen Murray, of Halifax. The twenty-four-year-old airman had been fighting with the R.C.A.F. squadron in England and was credited with downing three Nazi planes.

His latest victim was claimed on September 9, when he and a Nova Scotian pilot, Flight Lieutenant Edwin Reyno, a native of Herring Cove, near Halifax, assisted in helping the commander, Squadron Leader Ernest McNab, from a "pocket" high over England. Squadron Leader McNab is a son of Lieutenant-Governor McNab of Saskatchewan.

The letter describing the adventure was received by Mrs. Peterson yesterday, just a few moments after she opened the cable telling her of her husband's death.

Two Messerschmitt 109's closed in on the tail of the machine flown by Squadron Leader McNab, the letter said.

Flight-Lieutenant Reyno matched one and chased it off, while Peterson swooped to attack the second. He "got it" with a burst of fire from his machine guns, he said in his letter. "In fact, it seemed to disintegrate in the air."

Flying Officer Peterson was a graduate of the University of Manitoba and served with the R.C.A.F. in Halifax from November, 1939, up until last June, when he went overseas.

This squadron is being sent to the Alaskan base to give flyers training in cold weather and sub-Arctic operations, as well as to lay the groundwork for Far North defence.

HAMILTON FIELD, Cal., Oct. 1 (CP).—The first United States Army Air Corps tactical squadron ever assigned to Alaska will leave on November 1 for Ladd Field, Fairbanks.

It will be the 18th Pursuit Squadron, equipped at the outset with eight or ten planes. About 150 enlisted men and officers will comprise the personnel.

This squadron is being sent to the Alaskan base to give flyers training in cold weather and sub-Arctic operations, as well as to lay the groundwork for Far North defence.

Derringer Expected to Face Newsom Today In First Game of Series

Veteran Righthander Selected by Manager to Twirl For Cincinnati Reds Against Detroit Tigers—Jimmy Wilson Selected to Catch in Place Of Lombardi—Teams Are Chosen

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
CINCINNATI, Oct. 1 (AP)—Big Buck Newsom of Detroit Tigers, will be in the firing line tomorrow in the first game of the World Series, with equally big Paul Derringer probably doing the rifle work for Cincinnati Reds.

Fans already were camping outside the entrance to Crosley Field tonight, to make sure of seeing the spectacle that starts at 10:30 a.m. P.S.T. tomorrow. Manager Bill McKechnie refused to divulge his starting line-up, but no one has any doubt that Derringer will get the call.

Aside from the starting line, fixed by Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis, and the size of the crowd, 33,000, controlled by the capacity of the park almost every aspect of baseball's Autumn classic was surrounded by minor mysteries. The Tigers were rated as betting favorites, with bookmakers reporting 7 to 10 against their winning and even money on the Reds.

McKechnie did not know tonight whether the injured catcher, Ernie Lombardi, and Second Baseman Lonnie Frey would be able to start, and the best guess was that they could not.

The weather forecast was fair and cool, but clouds came over the city today.

FIVE GOOD HITTERS

The series shapes up as a test of pitching against power, and the experts were hemming and hawing in unprecedented fashion tonight. The Tigers will take the field with five good hitters in their line-up—Hank Greenberg, Rudy York, Barney McCosky, Charley Gehringer and Billy Sullivan.

In Detroit's workout today, Greenberg belted four balls over the center and left field fences of Crosley Field and made it look easy.

Derringer, who finished the season with a record of twenty-two and twelve lost, has been groomed carefully for the opening assignment. The big Kentuckian's curves always have baffled the American League batters, accustomed to looking at fast-ball pitching, and in this bulk-work the Reds braced all their hopes for the first National League victory since 1935.

But no one could explain how Cincinnati would get any runs. Newsom, a 21-5 standstill in the American League this season, has a puzzling motion and more speed.

HOW EXPERTS PICK SERIES

Cincinnati Reds Given Slight Edge by Scribes to Win Title

CINCINNATI, Oct. 1 (AP)—The "experts" are having just as tough a time trying to figure the world series as any of the fans.

But for the first time since New York Yankees founded their dynasty as the top of the American League, the writers lean toward a National League club triumph, thirty-four out of sixty who participated in an Associated Press poll naming the Reds as their choice.

The majority calculated the series would go six games.

Here is how some of the sports specialists view the situation:

John Derringer, New York Times—Reds, if the crumples play.

Grantland Rice, columnist—I like the Reds.

Frank Lewis, Cleveland Press—Reds in seven.

Ed Burns, Chicago Tribune—Tigers.

Tom Laird, San Francisco News—Tigers in six, Greenberg and those boys can hunt over this fence.

Buck O'Neil, Washington Times—Herald—Reds: No team ever was able to go without a good second base combination and Detroit hasn't got it.

Charles Ward, Detroit Free Press—Tigers in six, Greenberg and those boys can hunt over this fence.

Franklin Fenter, Philadelphia Bulletin—Cincinnati in six, with Derringer winning two.

Al Horwitz, Philadelphia Leader—Cincinnati winning through the law of averages.

Arthur Patterson, New York Herald-Tribune—Reds in six.

Stanley Frank, New York Post—Greenberg and York in six.

Eddie Bietz, Associated Press—Cincinnati in six, less than six.

Henry McMenore, United Press—Cincinnati in six.

Dan Parker, New York Mirror—Cincinnati in seven.

than the Reds have been looking at most of the year.

LOMBARDI DOUBTFUL
The Reds were weakened by injuries in the closing days of the season. Lombardi, who sprained an ankle recently, worked out today and looking better than he did Sunday, but afterward he admitted glumly: "I can't run. I'll be a miracle if I can play."

Frey was in uniform for the first time since an iron water-cooler lid fell on his foot last Friday, but Trainer Doc Rhoads said he didn't see how Frey would be able to get into action.

Because the Reds are pretty well fixed for reserve strength, McKechnie is expected to choose able substitutes ahead of injured regulars. This means that forty-year-old Jimmy Wilson, former manager of the Phillies, may catch every game.

Lombardi has been batting .319, while Wilson, in the sixteen games he has played since returning to the active list, has batted .243. Joost is a .216 hitter, in contrast to Frey's .266.

This also will leave the Reds with only two portable hitters, Jim Rippe and Ival Goodman, to face a string of right-handed pitchers.

Detroit is far from a perfect ball club, or even a well-balanced one, and the Tiger sluggers may win one game with a five-run margin and lose the next by one run through the combination of errors by their own sieve-like infield and the Reds' right pitching.

The opinion is general that the series will go six games, which will mean playing at Crosley Field on Wednesday and Thursday, in Briggs Stadium at Detroit on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, and returning here Monday and Tuesday if necessary.

EASILY PROVED
A quick doctor was expounding upon the magic healing powers of a certain herb that he compounded. "You see, my friends," he said, "I have sold this tonic for over thirty years and have never heard of a word of complaint against it. Now what does that prove to you?"

A voice from the audience answered: "That dead men tell no tales."

Cincy Reds May Start Turner In Today's Fixture

CINCINNATI, Oct. 1 (AP)—The know-it-alls who have been picking this and that pitcher to play in the World Series, starting here tomorrow, between Detroit and Cincinnati, may have overlooked a "dark horse."

The "dark horse" is Jim Turner, a seasoned gentleman of thirty-four whom Manager Bill McKechnie of the Reds can throw in there against the Tigers.

Jim is the product of one of the front office's better brainstormers at the major league meeting last winter. McKechnie knew him at Boston, where he was with a team that was struggling to stay in seventh place.

Turner was a first baseman, but Frank McCormick was better. So a deal was made—Seasdale for Turner.

The deal made Jim a late-blossoming perennial. After fourteen years in the business, he wound up with a record of fourteen victories and seven defeats and "blew" only two games.

$84,000 FOR RACE HORSE
American Syndicate Buys Mahmoud for Large Sum From Aga Khan

LONDON, Oct. 1 (CP)—Mahmoud, winner of the Epsom Derby in 1936 and considered England's greatest Derby horse, has been sold by the Aga Khan to a United States syndicate for $84,000, it was announced yesterday.

The syndicate, it was said, included "members of the Vanderbilt and Chrysler families," Walter Chrysler, Jr., and Alfred Vanderbilt were members of the syndicate which recently bought another famous Derby winner, Bahram, from the Indian potentate.

Mahmoud, a grey son of Blandford, won the 1936 Derby in the record time of 2 minutes 33.4 seconds. The shipment of the horse to the United States is being arranged by his new owners.

Americans now own three Derby winners sired by Blandford—Blenheim, Bahram and Mahmoud.

Tigers Jubilant After Winning Pennant

The sports camera catches six members of the victorious Detroit Tigers as they get together in the dressing room after defeating the Indians at Cleveland Stadium to become champions of the American League. Left to right are Pitcher Johnny Gorschka, Center-elder Barney McCoskey, Manager Del Baker and First Baseman Rudy York, who clouted the home run which clinched the game and pennant.

Rainiers' First Sacker Goes to the Big Leagues

George Archie Drafted by Washington Senators From the Seattle Squad—Brooklyn Dodgers Claim Four Via Ruling—Other Deals

CINCINNATI, Oct. 1 (AP)—Thirteen minor league players, including Pitcher Bill Swift and Infielder Pep Young, former members of Pittsburgh Pirates, were drafted by the major league tonight.

Brooklyn Dodgers were the only club to conscript more than one player, taking four. They were Young, who was released to Atlanta, of the Southern Association yesterday, Swift, who spent the season at St. Paul, in the American Association; Thompson Livingston, a catcher for Springfield, Mass., in the Eastern, and Al Sherer, a pitcher, from New Orleans in the Southern.

The first player drafted was Reuben F. "Rube" Melton, a star pitcher for Columbus in the American Association, and the next called was Peter Suter, an infielder owned by Kansas City in the same circuit. Suter played third base on option for Birmingham in the Eastern this year.

Washington Senators took First Baseman George Archie, of Seattle, in the Pacific Coast League. New York Giants picked Pitcher Ace Adams, of Nashville, in the Southern Association. Chicago Cubs chose Catcher Robert Scheffing, of Rochester in the International. Boston Red Sox got Oscar Judd, pitcher for Sacramento in the Coast League.

Pittsburgh Pirates took Outfielder Ed Shearill, of San Diego, in the same league. Cleveland Indians named Murray Howell, outfielder for Baltimore in the International, and Cincinnati Reds chose Mike Christoff, outfielder for Oakland in the Coast League. Howell led the Indians in triples last year.

Constituency was not the Bears' only-battling virtue. They blasted 141 home runs, compared with thirty-five by the Colonels, and outdoubled their 222 to 199—Louisville, however, led in triples sixty to forty-six.

The fifth game will be played at St. Catharines, Wednesday.

RIGGS NOT TRAVELING
MELBOURNE, Oct. 1 (AP)—The council of the Australian Lawn Tennis Association today turned down a request from the Queensland Association for permission to invite the American star, Bob Riggs, to play matches in Australia on behalf of the Red Cross.

The Australian council took the position that such an invitation would be unfair to the United States Association, which had agreed not to challenge for the Davis Cup during the war.

Referees Named For N.H.L. Games
TORONTO, Oct. 1 (CP)—The managing committee of the National Hockey League, which comprises Lester Patrick of the New York Rangers, Bill Tobin of Chicago Black Hawks, and Conny Smythe, Toronto Maple Leafs, approved appointment yesterday of this year's NHL refereeing staff. Bill Stewart, of Boston, was replaced by Frank "King" Clancy, of Ottawa.

Other arbiters are Norman Lamport, Toronto; Mickey Ion, Buffalo, and Rabbit McVeigh, Detroit. McVeigh is spare man.

Clancy, who worked last year as "spark" with Ion, Stewart and Lamport as regulars, was moved up when Stewart turned down the post because the board would not meet his salary demands.

TED LYONS IN VICTORY

Veteran Pitcher Guides White Sox to Win Over Chicago Cubs

CHICAGO, Oct. 1 (AP)—Ted Lyons made Chicago Cubs "like it" today, with reverse English. The thirty-nine-year-old veteran pitched the route as Chicago White Sox won the opening game of the 1940 city championship series, 5-3, but it was Lyons' batting, rather than his hurling, that gave him top honors.

He gave the National League ten safeties, but he got three hits in four trips to the plate and batted in three runs.

The White Sox, which have won the last five city championship skirmishes, went to work early on Claude Passeau, scoring three runs in the second inning.

BRAMPTON STAYS IN BOX SERIES
BRAMPTON, Ont., Oct. 1 (CP)—Brampton Excelsiors, down three games in the Ontario Lacrosse Association senior final, defeated St. Catharines Athletics 18-11 last night for their first win of the best-of-seven series.

Two fast hits, plus a shower of tomatoes, added spice to the loosely-played contest. Referee Max Peart was hit by one of the missiles and threatened to make Brampton forfeit the game unless the throwing stopped.

Brampton took an early lead and nursed it throughout the game. Arthur, of Brampton, with six goals, was high scorer.

The fifth game will be played at St. Catharines, Wednesday.

VICTOR Red Seal RECORDS

Six Senior Cage Aggregations to Seek City Crown

West Road and Navy Additional Entries in "A" Division of Victoria and District Basketball League—Sixteen Clubs in All Divisions—Entries Will Close Next Friday

With sixteen teams already in the fold and about another half dozen preparing to file their names with officials before the closing date next Friday, everything looks rosy for the Victoria and District Basketball League season this coming campaign, according to members of the executive following last night's meeting held in the Y.M.C.A. All entries must be in the hands of the secretary by Friday and may be left at the Victoria Sporting Goods, Broad Street.

Although not yet definite, the official opening is scheduled to take place on Saturday, October 12, at the Sports Centre at the Willows. It is the intention of the league to run off one preliminary game and two senior fixtures, the opposing teams for which will be announced later. Additional entries are expected to be placed in the intermediate "A" and "B" divisions, and therefore when the last squad files its name the total number of quintettes in the city circuit should be approximately twenty-two, which is an increase over last season's list.

SIX SENIOR CLUBS

In the senior division there may be six clubs going in search of the honors, including the Dominions, former Canadian titleholders, the aggregation which was exiled last campaign; Victoria Arrows, runners-up in the British Columbia men's senior play-off just last year, K-V's, Victoria and District Basketball League season this coming campaign, according to members of the executive following last night's meeting held in the Y.M.C.A. All entries must be in the hands of the secretary by Friday and may be left at the Victoria Sporting Goods, Broad Street.

PRESENTED WITH GEORGE CROSSES

bomb was removed and personally carried off its disposal.

Sapper Wylie took care of the location and removal of the bomb from its bed.

TWO RECEIVE O.B.E.

Two non-coms of the same bomb disposal section received the medal of the Order of the British Empire, military division, for their "complete disregard of their own safety" and "contempt of danger, working under a bomb that might have gone off at any moment."

They were Sgt. James Wilson, of the Royal Engineers, senior non-commissioned officer of the section dealing with the St. Paul's bomb, and Lance-Cpl. Herbert Leigh.

The citation said Sergeant Wilson, "with complete disregard for his own safety, supported the section officer unflinchingly until the bomb was finally located and brought to the surface."

The citation lauded Leigh's "contempt of danger, working under a bomb which might have gone off at any moment." It added that he was "of untold value in maintaining the morale of his men."

DAUGHTER TAKES HOLIDAY
Lieutenant Davies' youngest daughter, Edith, fourteen, took a holiday from school to celebrate her father's honor, but Mrs. Davies and other members of the family did not know about it.

Mrs. Davies herself was overjoyed when a reporter told her the news. She planned to wire her husband congratulations. She has had several telegrams and brief letters from him which have contained no reference to St. Paul's. He always tells her "Chin up and everything's dandy."

The George Cross was also awarded to Thomas Alderson, detachment leader of rescue parties at Bridlington, for consistent gallantry, enterprise and devotion to duty during air raids.

George Medals were awarded to a number of civilians, including air raid wardens, members of the Auxiliary Fire Services and regular firemen. Included were Mrs. Dorothy Clarke, ambulance driver, and Mrs. Jane Hepburn, ambulance attendant, both of Aldeburgh.

UNITED TO WORK OUT

Members of the Victoria United football team will hold a workout this evening at 7:30 at the Royal Athletic Park. All players and those interested are asked to attend.

Patient: No, but you're standing on my corn.

BOMB GERMANS FROM CHANNEL TO BERLIN

The explosion of bombs all along the French coast vibrated in British homes across twenty-two miles of Channel water.

IDENTIFIED BY FLARES

The Air Ministry News Service said the west power station in Berlin, hit last week, was clearly identified by flares.

A few minutes after the first stick of bombs had fallen there was a large explosion and numerous fires marked the success of the attack. It said, continuing with these details:

The Klingenberg power station also was "heavily bombed," railways were hit and a factory set on fire.

At the Mannheim railway yards the bursts of bombs were followed almost at once by a violent explosion and then by a whole "line of explosions so fierce and bright that our aircraft were lit up by them."

The flyers decided they had hit either ammunition trains or a series of dumps.

H. G. Penman Is In New Location

Just one year ago H. G. Penman returned to Victoria after conducting successfully a general advertising agency business for twenty years in the city of Seattle.

Mr. Penman reports that he has received a very cordial welcome from the mercantile and professional business firms of Victoria, and already has built up a very substantial clientele among the leading advertisers of the city.

Mr. Penman now announces that he has moved his office to the Henly-Hepburn Building, at 737 Fort Street, where he will discuss with advertisers their advertising plans or problems.
